A collection of sustainable wool blankets made from leftover yarn.

Turning leftover yarn into minimalistic blankets while enhancing our environmental footprint and offering a greater sense of purpose.

Committed to our principles of always looking for greener solutions, the idea of turning leftovers from our textile production into a brand new quality products, was an opportunity we were more than thrilled about.

The beautiful simplicity of this limited collection of blankets presents a variety of classic colours that never go out of style. Each blanket uses reprocessed natural fibres and directly helps to reduce unmanaged waste and CO2 emissions.

Wool is the original eco fibre.

"We strive to create timeless pieces that will last. We want them to feel current today and, in the years, to come. This is why the quality has to be second to none. The weaving technique and a strength of the fibres is very important. The most important."

- Chim Scavenius Sonne-Schmidt

Beauty of Natural Wool.

Wool has long been accepted as an environmentally positive fibre choice with a number of benefits. From a sustainability perspective, wool is an entirely natural product that is fully biodegradable. It breaks down quickly, returning its nutrients to the soil without releasing plastic microfibrils into the land and our oceans.

Wool has thermo-regulating properties, is easy to care for, and can be repaired and enjoyed for years and years. Naturally stain-resistant, durable, and fire retardant, it can bring a touch of luxury and warmth to your interior.
